stir was occasioned in local financial circles last evening by the announcement that Sheriff Jack Evans had been requested to locate Cashier
John Hornung of the Dresden National bank.This request came from National Bank Examiner Blackman, who has taken charge of the bank and who made a similar request of the Dresden authorities. A conference of the bank officials was held last night.Sheriff Evans was furnished a full description of Cashier Hornung, who,
it was said, left Dresden at 5:35
Monday evening on a southbound C.
A. & C. train. His destination was not known. He paid a cash fare to this city."All I can say now is that the

at the time remarked, "Guess my

WOUND BETWEEN
SCALP AND SKULL

John Johnson, a carpenter, was injured, on Monday afternoon, when he fell from a ladder, and a lead pencil which he had in the band of his hat, penetrated between the scalp and the skull, about an inch and a half. Mr. Johnson was working on a ladder at a house in North Buena Vista street when it turned with him and he fell head forward, about fourteen feet. He had been using the lead pencil in his work and had placed it in the band of his hat. The sharp point tore the scalp, and Dr. Carl Evans who was called to attend him, removed six pieces of lead and wood from the wound. He was removed to his home in Dewey avenue, and is suffering much pain today from the wound in his head and a badly sprained shoulder.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, July 13.—Samuel A. Hoskins, member of the state civil service commission, will leave that position Thursday, having sent his resignation to Governor Willis a month ago, and become treasurer of a Columbus insurance company, he announced today. He also will maintain an office here and practice law.

Governor Willis has announced he would appoint a successor to Hoskins immediately. The appointee probably will serve on the new commission of two members created by the Barnes-Moore civil service law, or await the president's return.

State department officials continued to prepare memoranda, all of which is assembled at the end of each day and forwarded to the president. It is regarded as probable that nothing of a definite character concerning the American policy would be revealed before next week when President Wilson is expected in Washington.

CROWDS PRESENT
WHEN OLD CRIME
IS BROUGHT UP

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Bedford, Iowa, July 13.—Crowds gathered here today from half a dozen counties for the preliminary hearing of Bates Huntsman, Samuel Scrivner, John and Henry Damewood, charged with the murder of a Missouri cattleman and his son, near Siam, Iowa, 47 years ago.

Among the witnesses here was Samuel Anderson, whose plans for a civil suit against the defendants for a division of $90,000 treasure said to have been buried on a farm near Siam, Iowa, led to an investigation by the state attorney general's office and the arrest of the four men. The money was said to have been taken from the cattlemen by a gang of counterfeitors who murdered him.

Mrs. Maria Collins Porter, of Quitman, Mo., who as a girl, witnessed scenes following the alleged murders also was here to testify.

Secretary Lansing Has Nothing
New to Give Out On Situation;
Continues to Prepare Memoranda

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, July 13.—Secretary Lansing said today there were no developments in the situation with Germany, that he had no word from President Wilson and did not know whether he would go to Cornish or await the president's return.

Editorial comment on Germany's reply to the American note on submarine warfare, declares that the reply indicates a victory for the demands of military and the naval elements in the German cabinet. The newspaper says:

"Every line of the German answer tramples upon neutral rights, and the honor of the United States. Every word breaths the solid conviction that America will not dare to insist upon her rights and that America's cry about right, justice and humanity will remain empty sounds."

"Rejecting America's demands, German diplomacy transforms Germany from accused to accuser, who punts before the United States, her own demands."

The paper concludes that the German admiralty is making fun of American diplomatic eloquence but discusses the point that America will bend the head and engage in further diplomatic exchanges.

The Reich after making an analysis of the German answer says:

"The subtleness of President Wilson's mind we do not know, but there appears to be only two alternatives open. He could forego the role of public crier of humane principles and look upon the affair from a narrow, practical viewpoint. In that event he could discharge one more note to Berlin, deal out safe conduct for possibly six or let us say eight 'enemy' ships. Or he could take his stand on the high plane of that historic problem, the yoke of which he took up two months ago, will feel the whole insulting cunning of the German answer, and will show in deeds that even to his peaceable, trusting heart comes the conviction that the time has arrived to put an end once and for all to German pretensions."

The paper concludes that the German admiralty is making fun of American diplomatic eloquence but discusses the point that America will bend the head and engage in further diplomatic exchanges.

The Reich after making an analysis of the German answer says:

"The subtleness of President Wilson's mind we do not know, but nothing suspicious was discovered.

Edison Consents to Head Board Of Inventors Which Will Make Suggestions to Navy Department

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, July 13.—Announcement by Thomas A. Edison, of his acceptance of Secretary Daniels' offer to head an advisory board of civilian inventors for the proposed bureau of invention and development in the navy department, was received with gratification today by naval officials. Secretary Daniels was especially pleased because upon Mr. Edison's acceptance depended almost entirely the development of the secretary's plan of utilizing the inventive genius of the country to aid in perfecting the navy as a fighting machine.

Mr. Daniels, who appealed to Mr. Edison to undertake the task on patriotic grounds, went ahead today with the perfection of his new plans. Details of the proposed organization, however, will not be completed until the secretary has had an opportunity to confer with Mr. Edison, which he hopes to do very soon. It is planned to have men prominent in special lines of inventive research work associated with the bureau, several names already being under consideration.

One of the big problems to be laid before the new bureau will be that of improving the navy's submarines and aeroplanes, the imperative need of which is recognized. Referring in his letter to Mr. Edison to submarine warfare, Secretary Daniels said that he felt sure that with Mr. Edison's wonderful brain to help them, the officers of the navy would be able to meet this new danger with new devices that will assure peace to our country by their effectiveness.

Another important task of the bureau will be to make a careful study with a view to their possible adoption of all the numerous suggestions and inventions which are received almost daily by the navy department from naval officers and civilians.

These are now handled by the various bureaus already overcrowded with routine work.

For experimental purposes the navy department purchased several torpedo boats to hang around battleships and protect them from torpedo attacks.

Secretary Daniels said today these were of the same type as those employed by European navies.

Experiments are now going on with the nets aboard one of the ships on the Atlantic fleet. Similar experiments made some time ago produced no very definite results.

The nets are composed of wire links and high speed modern torpedoes have torn their way through them in previous tests. The British battleship Triumph, sunk by a torpedo in the Dardanelles, is said to have had nets out which were penetrated.

Preparations to equip battleships with nets were made when the last few ships were launched. The nets hang to a depth of thirty feet or more from the ship's side. They constitute a chain mail about her and torpedoes are discharged when they strike the nets. Relatively small damage results except to the net, which is torn, leaving a hole through which a second torpedo can get home.

Some officers are not overconfident of the success of the net experiment, but believe it wise to leave no stone unturned in an effort to protect battleships from submarines. It is said that nets are no use except to ships at anchor. The British navy has always been equipped with nets, but the present tendency, it is said, is to discard them.

M. R. S. Hutchison, personal representative of Mr. Edison, called on Secretary Daniels today and informed him of Mr. Edison's acceptance of the invitation.

"Mr. Hutchison told me," said Secretary Daniels, "that Mr. Edison regarded my invitation as a call to duty and that he would be glad to render any service possible to his country. Mr. Hutchison further stated that Mr. Edison would be very glad to send in a few days his reply to my letter of invitation."

Secretary Daniels conferred with Rear Admirals Griffin, Taylor and Strauss, and naval officers who handle the problem of ordnance, construction engineering and electricity as to the best way to get the benefit of the advice of citizens inventors.

As to the other advisory members to be invited, Secretary Daniels said he was not ready to make any announcement but he felt assured that other men would respond to the call to duty. He expects to make an announcement concerning them in a few days.

When a large list of names of Americans prominent in various lines of science and invention was mentioned to Secretary Daniels, today, he refused to be drawn into any discussion of probable selections, saying he would not speculate at all but would wait until he was ready to make the announcement.

Among the names mentioned were Alexander Graham Bell, Simon Lake, Orville Wright, Professor R. A. Fessenden, John Hays Hammond, Jr., Hudson Maxim and Henry Ford.

London, July 13.—Contradictory reports regarding the extent of the Austro-Hungarian reverse at Krasnik, in Southern Russian Poland, continue, some even claiming that the Austro-Hungarians are contemplating a general retreat, but the mystery of the situation is the persistent silence maintained by Field Marshal von Mackensen, who, apparently is making no effort to resume the German advance on Warsaw.

Petrograd reasons this inaction of the Germans as being due to the fear of Field Marshal von Mackensen that his left flank would be exposed while the Austrians were on the defensive, but some fear is expressed by London observers that the brilliant military commander is commanding an unexpected coup.

The German attack on Souchez, where the French advances had threatened the town of Lille, may indicate the arrival on the western front of the long-expected Teutonic reinforcements, but evidence still is lacking on any concerted offensive on either side along the battlefront in France and Belgium.

Germany and Austria-Hungary, according to dispatches from the Balkan states, are using every diplomatic resource to induce Rumania to join military forces with the Central powers or at least to preserve an attitude of permanent friendly neutrality.

It is reported that the Austro-Hungarian minister at Bucharest has offered the Rumanian government liberal territorial compensation for armed assistance, countering Russia's offer of Transylvania with that of Bessarabia. Her reward for friendly neutrality is said to be Bukowina as far as the river Pruth.

From Austrian sources comes a report that Russia is giving substantial proof of the possibility of Rumania accepting one of these Teutonic offers by building trenches and entanglements along her Rumanian frontier.

Bulgaria and Turkey are said to have reached a deadlock in their negotiations on account of the refusal of Sofia to do more than preserve friendly neutrality in return for territorial compensations from Constantinople.

OF LAST ASSEMBLY

Cincinnati, July 13.—A campaign against legislation passed by the last Ohio general assembly which it is said restricts the practice of dentistry was begun here today by attorneys representing the Ohio State Progressive Dentists Association, which closed its annual convention at Cedar Point, Ohio, yesterday.

"The legislation complained of," said Lem S. Miller, counsel for the association, "is aimed at what is commonly known as the 'advertising dentist.' The chief complaint against this legislation is that it will not permit firms of dentists to practice except under their individual names. Thus a firm which employs a number of dentists would have to use the name of each dentist in the office. This legislation also restricts the advertising of dentists."

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Toledo, July 13.—Because Brand Whitlock is a Toledoan and because he has made himself the idol of the Belgium people, one of the finest art treasures of the war-devastated kingdom will soon hang in the Toledo Museum of Art.

As a token of appreciation for what the people of the United States has done for Belgium, Charles Leon Cardon, artist and collector of Brussels, has presented to the people of this country the most celebrated painting in his collection. It is Van Dyck's sketch for his picture "Saint Martin Partageant Son Manteau," according to information just received from Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, by Marshall Sheppen of Toledo.

In a letter to Mr. Sheppen, Mr. Whitlock says that in Mr. Cardon's home on the Quai Au Pois A Bruxelles, in Brussels, there are the results of two generations of artistic appreciation, and that the gift "Saint Martin, cutting his mantle and sharing it with a poor man," is the prize picture of the collection.

ONLY STATION

Used for Novel Experimentation to Which Foreign Officers never are Taken to be Used.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Annapolis, Md., July 13.—The United States naval engineering experiment station, which Secretary Daniels, in his letter to Thomas A. Edison referred to as the only station of engineering investigation now at the disposal of the department is situated on the opposite side of the Severn river from the naval academy and forms part of that institution. It is the only place where foreign officers visiting the academy never are taken.

It is the right arm of the naval bureau of steam engineering for original research along certain engineering lines and for the investigation of matter used in the naval service, and it is now preparing to test coal and oil heating apparatus for ships of the navy.

The first tests at the station were made in 1908 and at present it is said to be overwhelmed with work. To prosecute this work, calls for the services of nearly a hundred laborers, mechanics, laborers, clerks, draftsmen, civilian experts and naval officers. During the summer months, young officers from the post graduate department of the naval academy receive practical instruction at the experiment station.

Officials of the B and O and Pennsylvania railroads came to Newark Tuesday and went into session with the city officials regarding the final details of the proposed contract for the subway construction. The meeting started about 2:30 o'clock and was held in the home of O. C. Jones.

At that time no definite action had been taken on any of the matters yet to be decided upon. One of these questions was the location of the proposed union station which is a new feature of the proposed improvement. A well defined movement is on foot to secure the location of this union station at the point where the present Pennsylvania station now stands.

The railroad officials were guests today at luncheon at the home of O. C. Jones. Mr. Jones was one of the party of Newark men who met the railroad men in Pittsburgh two weeks ago.

Vanilla lines, who relieved Cavanaugh here said that Mr. Hornung was not on the train when it left Zanesville. "I know Mr. Hornung personally," said Conductor Skinner, "and he was not on the train going down to Lancaster."

The Pennsylvania train was brought to this city by Conductor James Cavanaugh, of this city, and then Conductor Skinner took charge of the run between Zanesville and Lancaster.

Cashier Hornung, who is a member of one of the oldest Dresden families, has been very prominent in church and reform work in his home town, and has always enjoyed the full confidence and highest esteem of his fellow townsmen.

The news that Sheriff Evans has been requested to arrest him as a great shock to some of his closest business associates, who at first refused to believe the report. Persons connected with the bank were not inclined to discuss the affair last night.

Sheriff Evans has notified the oficials of neighboring towns to be on the lookout for Hornung.

"I think it is absolutely false," said William Miller, Dresden, a stockholder of the bank and one of the wealthiest citizens of Dresden. Mr. Miller is well known throughout the state, having operated newspapers in Zanesville and Springfield, and through his activity as a leader in "Making Ohio Dry" last year. "I have had dealings with the bank in the last few days and think there is nothing to it." Mr. Miller emphatically stated when asked if he had learned of the affairs at the institution.

The Dresden National bank, organized several years ago with a capital stock of $25,000, numbered among its directors and stockholders many of the wealthiest and most prominent residents of northern Muskingum county. The officers and directors of the organization are William Copeland, president and director; John Hornung, cashier and director; Bernard Mattingly, director; Patrick McGovern, director; Howard Taylor, director.

SUICIDE FEARED

By Hornung's Wife Since His Disappearance—Has $40,000 Uncumbered Property.

Zanesville, Ohio, July 13.—The Dresden National bank is closed today while National Bank Examiner Bachman is trying to untangle the mystery of the disappearance of the cashier, John Hornung, who left Dresden last night and has not been seen since. The examiner does not believe that there is a shortage of any considerable amount of the bank's funds, if any, and attributes Hornung's departure to fright. Mrs. Hornung stated today that she believed that her husband has committed suicide. Hornung, due to inexperience, allowed the bank's books to become greatly entangled and an examiner was summoned to straighten them out. Hornung and his wife are on the county tax duplicate for $40,000 and their property is unencumbered, which adds to the mystery of the disappearance of the cashier.

DIVISION

IN AGRICULTURAL COMMISSION
AGAINST REDUCING ADMIS-SION TO STATE FAIR

At Meeting Today Several Questions
are to be Decided—H. C. Price
Absent for First Time.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Columbus, July 13.—The state agricultural commission at its meeting today awaited anxiously an opinion from Attorney General Turner, interpreting the law passed in 1913, prohibiting the importation into the state of "all dairy cows and meat cattle for breeding purposes," suffering from tuberculosis or other diseases.

Livestock dealers, particularly those in Cincinnati, are making a fight against the commission's interpretation of the law, and contending for the right to import diseased stock if it is not meant for breeding. The commission interprets the law as if a comma were placed after the word "cows" in the law, thus forbidding importation of all diseased dairy animals whether meant for slaughter or for breeding. With the prospective early raising of the foot and mouth quarantine from Hamilton county stockyards, the question threatens to be agitated strongly.

Homer C. Price, formerly dean of the college of agriculture, Ohio State University, who left that position recently, was absent from the commission's meeting today for the first time. He had been a member of ex-officio. His removal left the commission divided predominantly against the question of reducing the admission to the state fair from 50 to 25 cents, two 25-cent and one for. Members Sandles and Williams were opposed and Strode favorable to the proposal.

About a score of applicants today took the state examinations for certificates to practice veterinary medicine. Among them were several old veterinarians who practiced before the state law regulating them went into effect a number of years ago and who never held a state license. The Harrison federal anti-narcotic drug law forbids all who do not have state licenses from prescribing or administering narcotic drugs, and in order to be given this privilege under the federal law they took the state examinations.

The Dresden National bank, organized several years ago with a capital stock of $25,000, numbered among its directors and stockholders many of the wealthiest and most prominent residents of northern Muskingum county. The officers and directors of the organization are William Copeland, president and director; John Hornung, cashier and director; Bernard Mattingly, director; Patrick McGovern, director; Howard Taylor, director.

The company's estimate of its valuation for rate making purposes is $21,000.

The Union Gas and Electric company also entered formal protest to the commission against the electric rate ordinance passed by the Cincinnati council July 6. This fixed the maximum rate for current at 8 1/2 cents a kilowatt hour for the first 30 hours and reduced rates of greater amounts.

APPEAL

TO AMERICAN AMBASSADOR
MADE BY PRESIDENT CHAMBERLAIN OF DENISON

That Permission be Given for Shipment from Germany of Scientific Apparatus.

[Special to The Advocate]
Granville, July 13.—President C. W. Chamberlain of Denison University has appealed to Ambassador Page in London to use his influence with the British government to permit the shipment of scientific apparatus and materials for the use of Denison University. Orders were placed before the war with German and Austrian manufacturers. The supplies are now held in Holland. The British Order in Council has forbidden the exportation from neutral countries of this scientific material. The authorities of the college hope that a presentation of the fact that the work of the college will be seriously hampered unless the shipments are released will induce the British authorities to pass goods which are to be employed for educational and scientific purposes.

Mr. C. J. Wright, accompanied by his family and a few friends, drove his "Hudson Six" to Columbus yesterday afternoon, and experienced on the way over, a rather peculiar accident, which fortunately had no serious results. About ten miles this side of Columbus, in a narrow strip of road, which the workmen are preparing to widen, a traction engine was engaged in pulling up the roots of the tall hedge at the side of the road, which the men cut up and burned. Traffic was halted until a large osage orange tree was thus disposed of, when the waiting autos on the west of the obstruction passed in single file. Mr. Wright then started his machine, supposing that the engine driver would give him the right of way. Instead, however, the heavy engine was driven suddenly almost across the narrow road, giving Mr. Wright the alternative of smashing his handsome new machine or taking his charges in the ditch. He chose the latter, and another inch would have overturned the machine completely. The passengers stepped out quietly, the foreman of the gang brought his men and a pair of mules. The animals were hitched on, Mr. Wright stayed at the wheel, and the Hudson was rescued from an unpleasant if not dangerous predicament. The parting advice given by several of the party to the careless engineer is something he should remember—over night!

The Presbyterian church will hold its annual picnic Friday afternoon, beginning at half past two o'clock, under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society. The members are asked to bring baskets.

Mrs. Theodore Johnson entertained one of the choruses of the Women's Club last evening at her home in West Elm street.

Mrs. W. A. Chamberlain, who left Granville a week ago for Denver, Colorado, reaches that city today, after a pleasant stop in Omaha.

Miss Mary Hunt is spending a few weeks of the summer vacation at the home of her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Emory W. Hunt in Newton Center, Mass.

Mrs. B. L. Jones and Mrs. Belle Grove Wright went to Columbus this morning to spend the day with friends.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dalley, who arrived on the fifth of July, has been named Mary Elizabeth, in honor of her two grandmothers.

Mrs. John Larimore, accompanied her daughter, Mrs. F. L. Perry to her home in Delaware, O., where she will make a short visit.

Mr. George Pratt of Philadelphia, Pa., is spending the vacation at the home of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wright in East College street. Mr. Pratt's father was one of Granville's old and esteemed citizens.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Judson of New York, former director of the Denison Conservatory of Music will be interested to learn of his recent appointment as manager of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, one of the important musical organizations of the country. Since leaving Granville Mr. Judson has been on the staff of Musical America with offices on Fifth avenue.

WORKMAN IS CAUGHT
UNDER OVERTURNED
CONSTRUCTION CAR

Augusta Gostevia, a foreigner employed as a laborer on the National Pike construction work, suffered severe injuries Tuesday morning about 6:30 o'clock when he was caught under one of the small construction cars which overturned after a wild dash down a steep hill about a mile east of Linnville. Gostevia's right ankle was fractured. Dr. Brown of Hebron was called and the Bazaar White ambulance made a hasty trip to Linnville to bring the injured man to the city hospital where Drs. Brown and Essington attended him.

Gostevia with a number of other laborers, boarded the construction train which is operated along the pike, to go to the point where the day's work was to be done. On a steep hill east of Linnville the car on which Gostevia was riding broke from the train and ran wild down the hill. Near the foot of the hill, the car overturned, throwing the workmen to the road. Gostevia was caught under the car.

The trip to the scene and the return to the hospital was made by the Bazaar car in a little more than 35 minutes.

TO BOILER USERS
FROM DEPARTMENT

Because of the uncertainty of many boiler users in regard to the exact provisions of the Ohio boiler inspection law, the boiler inspection department of the Ohio Industrial Commission has issued the following advice to prospective purchasers of traction engine boilers that may be used for saw mill purposes:

All boilers built since July 1, 1912, that are to be used for saw mill purposes must be Ohio Standard.

Job Hunters Busy.

The job hunters are systematically assailing the institutions of Ohio. Led by a partisan governor who encourages their efforts they are assaulting the homes for the care of the orphans, the lame, the halt, the blind and the defective. The wards of the state are being made political pawns. Their welfare and the state's count for naught if only the hungry horde of office seekers may be satisfied. Administrative posts in the institutions are demanded as reward for party service.

Little recking of the fiasco in the trumped up investigation at the Lancaster reform school the busy-bodies are still at work writing letters and making charges by which they are endeavoring to get the controlling jobs at the Mansfield reformatory and at the Ohio State Penitentiary. Right now they are after Dr. J. A. Leonard, who is recognized as the leading expert in the United States. They are after also Preston S. Thomas, warden at the penitentiary. There is no secret that an organized complaint board has been formed whose purpose is to secure control of the institutions for personal ends. As the institutions have been conducted for the past six years at least no politics have entered in the management.

Judson Harmon saw to it that the administrative board should operate on business principles and he had business men placed in charge. James M. Cox absolutely refused to allow politicians or political seekers to interfere with the institutions while he was governor. But it's different now. Governor Willis wants the patronage and will get it by fair means or foul.

'Indicative of the situation is the fact that he is nursing petty grievances of discharged employees and ignoring the state board of administration whose duty it is to look into all matters. He is dealing solely with Staley Creamer, whom he placed on the board of administration as a "Democrat" whose sole qualifications was that he supported him, and is ignoring the experienced men on the board, who were placed there because of their ability and experience. The final object of the Willis administration is not only to get the heads of the various institutions, but to secure control of the board of administration as well, so that the management of the insane asylums, the orphanages, the correctional institution and all activities of the state may be placed in the hands of politicians.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

Evening star: Mars. Morning stars: Saturn, Jupiter, Mercury, Venus. The Northern Crown in meridian at 8 p. m.

ago came the nearly fatal attempt on J. P. Morgan, followed up by the placing of a bomb in the New York Police Station. What next?

The more or less demented persons who are wandering about the country, planning some crazy deed of violence, sending threatening letters to prominent men are a constant menace to all holding high station. Probably the men at the head of large manufacturing corporations could tell similar tales if they cared to.

After such events, the suggestion is usually made by many people that additional restrictions be placed on the sale of firearms. Probably this should be done, but principally to keep weapons away from ruffians and rowdies. The crank whose mind is red with inflamed passion against some public dignitary or policy can never be prevented in this manner from getting deadly weapons.

Fortunately a diseased mind has little gift for concealment. Its morbid passion demands expression. The cracked brain keeps its own thoughts no more easily than a cracked vessel holds water. Police officers and friends who allow a morbid mind to roam at large assume a heavy responsibility.

Arguing with men who get these queer mental streaks is apt to be useless. Unless one was very tactful, they would be only irritated. Probably their lack of balance is due primarily to low states of nervous vitality. Putting them on some not over strenuous job at farming or gardening would do them more good than seeking to convert them to sanity. A quiet life in the sunshine, co-operating in the orderly process of nature, would restore many queer minds to a more normal balance.

Fighting the Hessian Fly.

The ravages of the Hessian fly in the wheat fields in some sections this year will be the greatest in several years, according to the Federal Department of Agriculture. Since the life habits of this pest, and the means of combatting it, are thoroughly understood, there seems to be little excuse for the losses it causes. Indeed as the department points out in its weekly news letter, "the most practical and effective methods of controlling the Hessian fly are identical with the best methods of producing the maximum yields of wheat. It is perfectly possible for the farmer to fight the Hessian fly by the progress of good farming, involving thorough cultivation, good seed and a rotation of crops." More specifically, the "flaxseed" stage in wheat from June till September:

1. Burn, where possible and safe, all stubble and ruined wheat.
2. Disk all stubble and ruined wheat immediately after harvest, where burning is impracticable.

3. Plow under deeply all stubble and ruined wheat fields before August 15, harrow the ground, and roll if necessary.

4. Harrow, disk, pasture, or otherwise effectively destroy all volunteer wheat.

5. As a measure preparatory to sowing, plow as early and deeply as existing conditions will permit; disk, harrow, and roll until a thoroughly pulverized, compact seed bed is obtained.

6. Do not sow wheat until after fly-free date (October 1 in this latitude.)

7. Rotate your crops if possible.

Thrills for Patriotic Tourists

(New York World)
Tourists whose consciences have been awakened by war conditions abroad to the duty of seeing America first are enjoying the added inducements offered this summer of meeting with thrilling adventures at home. The ancient and picturesque profession of highwayman has recently undergone a promising revival, and any traveller may hope in the course of his sightseeing to profit by adventures not scheduled in the prospectus.

While a lone bandit in Yellowstone Park volunteers to hold up twelve tourists coaches and lighten 100 passengers of all their spare cash, with proper sectional pride four train-robbers gallantly rise to the occasion in Alabama and take $100,000 from a limited train, besides relieving passengers of their jewelry.

It is not yet possible to advertise that all routes present equal attractions in this way, but as the season advances more instances of this form of diversion for the weary traveler may yet occur, so that no part of the country, West or South, may boast of the advantages not shared by all for the entertainment of visitors.

BOOKS.

Oh, writer, write a story that's full of vim and fire, of men who wade to glory through perils dark and dire.

Write up the chap hero who faces tearful odds with calmness of the Stoic, and courage of the gods. For we are tired of fiction which doesn't hit the spot, which gives us polished diction in place of baffling plot. Oh, when a man is weary, from toiling in the mart, he wants a volume cheery, that stirs his jaded heart. Below the mark of zero is Artful Workmanship; he wants to meet a hero, who makes things hum and zip. Oh, writer fair, determine your method in advance! If you must write a sermon, don't label it Romance. We hear about a novel that is a gem indeed: we take it to our hovel, and there sit down to read, expecting something classic, and find it is a frost. The publishers were brassy who took us for the cost. Don't fool the weary Croesus, don't touch him for his halo; don't bend him out a thesis, and say it is a tale. We're tired of preachers mellow that masquerade as yarns; oh, give us something yellow, like Gunter's Mr. Barnes.

Miss Grace Feeney was delightfully surprised by a few of her playmates, on Saturday afternoon, at her home in South Second street, honoring her ninth birthday anniversary. ## AMBASSADOR'S AUTO HELD UP NEAR GLEN COVE

Washington, July 13.—The British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring Rice, today refused to discuss the attempt to hold up his automobile near Glen Cove, L. I., on the night J. P. Morgan was shot by Frank Holt, but at the British embassy accounts of the affair were substantially confirmed.

Sir Cecil was on his way from Mr. Morgan's home to Willard D. Straight's house at Greenwich after telephoning word of his coming. No one else knew of his plans. The automobile from which a party of men attempted to stop the ambassador carried no license number.

Miss Grace Eagan who has been employed as book-keeper at the Warden Hotel, left last night for Des Moines, Iowa, where she will take a similar position at Captain F. G. Warden's hotel in Des Moines.

A Curious Illusion.

What has come to be called the "Firehole" in the Yellowstone National park is a large hot spring from the bottom of which, to all appearances, a light colored flame is constantly issuing, only to be extinguished in the water before it reaches the surface. At times it has a distinct ruddy tinge, and it always flickers back and forth like the turbulent flame of a torch. When seen under favorable conditions the illusion is perfect, and the beholder is sure that he has at last caught a glimpse of the hidden fires which produce the weird phenomena of this region. But it is only illusion. Through a fissure in the rock superheated steam escapes and divides the water just as bubbles do on a small scale. The reflection from the surface thus formed accounts for the appearance, which is intensified by the black background formed by the sides and bottom of the pool.—"The Yellowstone National Park," by Hiram Martin Chittenden, Brigadier General, U. S. A., Retired.

Prolific Fungi.

An average sized mushroom will produce as many as 1,800,000 spores, and a common toadstool shaggy cap has been shown to produce as many as 5,000,000. Fortunately for the other inhabitants of the world, however, the probability of successful growth of any given spore is somewhat remote.

The mushroom or toadstool plant is formed by the diminutive threads which ramify beneath the soil, and if we assume that a successful plant of the mushroom or shaggy caps produces as many as ten mushrooms or toadstools we find that the chance against successful growth to maturity is respectively about 18,000,000 and 50,000,000 to one in the two species mentioned. Even more prolific than the mushrooms and toadstools proper is the giant puffball, a large specimen of which has been known to produce as many as 7,000,000,000 spores.—London Knowledge.

Two Convincing Reasons.

Lord Peterborough, who lived in the reign of Queen Anne, was very frolicsome, and one day, seeing from his carriage a dancing master with pearl colored stockings lightly stepping over the broad stones and picking his way in extremely dirty weather, he alighted and ran after him with drawn sword in order to drive him into the mud, but into which he, of course, fell himself. This nobleman was once taken for the Duke of Marlborough and was mobbed in consequence. The duke was then in disgrace with the people, and Lord Peterborough was about to be roughly handled. Turning to them, he said:

"Gentlemen, I can convince you by two reasons that I am not the Duke of Marlborough. In the first place, I have only 5 guineas in my pocket, and, in the second, they are heartily at your service."

Burned For Thirty Years.

Some illicit whisky distillers once set up their plant in the workings of a disused coal mine on a lonely part of the South Sanchie coal field, in Scotland, but an accident compelled them to change their quarters. They discovered that one of their furnaces had caused a smoldering fire in the abandoned coal seam, and, failing in their efforts to extinguish it, the "moonshiners" left the place in a hurry without reporting the occurrence to the authorities. The fire in the old pit continued to smolder until at night the flames, issuing from the mouth of the shaft, attracted the attention of the inhabitants around. But it was found that the fire had reached such a point that all attempts to put it out proved futile. It burned itself out in thirty years.—London Mail.

Defeated Himself.

When couched in negative form requests bring negative results. A young man said to a father, "I suppose you will refuse if I ask for the hand of your daughter." The father replied, "Yes, I will refuse, but if you had put it the other way, that you were bound to have my daughter if you had to kill me first, you could have had her. As it is, you have defeated yourself at the start, and I do not want a son-in-law of that type of mind. A man who defeats himself on propositions at the start needs to be looked after by some one else most of the time."—Tomorrow's Topics.

An Unreasonable Fellow.

"Oh, it's no fun being engaged to him," she said bitterly.

"Why not?" asked her dearest friend.

Father of Medicine.

Aesculapius was styled the father of medicine and the god of medicine with equal propriety, as it is not certain whether he was half god or mere man. His pedigree is involved in the mazes of mythology. He is represented as having practiced medicine so successfully as not only to have prevented the death of the living, but to have recalled the dead to life. Tradition says that Jupiter, for some offense, slew him with thunderbolt, and after his death he received divine honors. One of his whims was to invest the serpent with a sort of sacred character as the symbol of veneration and also because of its supposed power of discovering healing herbs. A heroic sized statue of him in Berlin represents him as leaning on a staff around which is coiled a huge snake that rests its head in friendly fashion on its arms. Aesculapius had two daughters, whose names are preserved in modern English—Hygeia and Panacea.—Philadelphia Press.

When Connecticut Owned Chicago.

Connecticut once claimed the territory Chicago now occupies. This was at the close of the Revolutionary war, when what is now Chicago was only a ruined fort built long before, and called Che-caw-gou in 1783. Massachusetts, Connecticut, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia claimed to own the territory west of them as far as the Mississippi river, although the territories of Massachusetts and Connecticut were interrupted by parts of New York and Pennsylvania. The line between Massachusetts and Connecticut came a little north of what is now Chicago. It was Maryland that reduced these huge domains.

Having no western territory herself, she refused to accept the articles of confederation unless the other states would agree to cede the western territories to the confederation itself, to be made in course of time, into new states.

Rise and Fall of a Mining Town.

A curious instance of the latter day rise and fall of a mining town developed at Iosmer, in the Crow's Nest district, Canada. Coal was found and a mine opened without regard to expenditure. In all over $1,000,000 was put into the operations. Many promising seams were cut, and so sure were the engineers of the quality and quantity of coal to be reached that a double tunnel, with a side air passage, was driven the whole length. Expensive tipples, tramways and washer were constructed and a battery of 24 coke ovens built to take care of the washed slack coal product from the mine.

However, the coal seams proved to be so broken and irregular that operations were entirely too expensive and were abandoned. As a consequence the town of Iosmer, which had a population of about 1,000, is now a

FERTILIZER

WILL BE CHEAPENED FOR FARMERS AS RESULT OF WAR

German Chemists Evidently Have Discovered Process of Getting Nitrogen from the Air.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Hot Springs, Va., July 13.—W. H. Bowker, of Boston, addressing the National Fertilizer Association convention here today, declared one of the beneficial effects of the European war would be cheaper fertilizer-nitrogen and predicted it probably would be disclosed that the German chemists had found new processes for making that element, probably extracting it from the air.

"One of the essential ingredients of destructive explosives is nitrogen," he said. "Chile saltpeter has been the chief chemical source. While the ports of Germany appear to be closed, she does not seem to be disturbed about it. It is evident that the Teutons are getting nitrogen for their explosives and their agricultural from some other source than Chilean nitrate, probably from coal and from the air in a new process. After the war is over, the world will have the benefit of their discoveries. It will be remembered that beet sugar was an outcome of the Napoleonic wars."

Mr. Bowker said coal in the United States was one of the greatest sources of nitrogen and he estimated that the 1913 production of the twelve first coal producing states was sufficient to produce thirty pounds of nitrogen for each acre of improved land in the United States. He urged steps to recover the nitrogen from consumed coal.

Women's Music Club Announces Concerts for Next Season. Cincinnati Orchestra and Francis Macmillen Head the List

The prospects for a brilliant 1915-1916 musical season for Newark were assured today when representatives of the Women's Music club announced that, at an expense of approximately $2000, they have ar-

Francis Macmillen, the celebrated violinist.

Marie Hertenstein, the famous piano virtuoso.

Paul Althouse, the wonderful tenor from the Metropolitan opera house, who created such a sensation this last season by singing with flattening success the roles left open by the departure of Caruso for Europe.

The Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, with Dr. Kunwald, its equally eminent conductor, was engaged chiefly because of the tremendous successes it has scored in this vicinity in past seasons, and the consequent demand for it. It is not within the memory of the oldest resident when arrangements have been made for the bringing of such a wonderful galaxy of musicians to Newark. The club, therefore, is to be heartily congratulated on its enterprise in securing Dr. Kunwald and his orchestra.

Of no less importance and equally as pleasing is the club's further announcement that they have engaged Mr. Francis Macmillen, the celebrated violin virtuoso, whose wonderful playing amazed lovers of music in Newark on the occasion of his appearance here some ten years ago. Already Mr. Macmillen's bookings for this coming season are nearing the century mark with the prospects of a half dozen more names—including those found in any drugstore. Bathe the face in this, and—presto!

you scarcely believe your own eyes when you look into your mirror and behold the marvellous transformation.

The remarkable and instant action of this salolite so tightens the skin wrinkles are literally pressed out. Best of all, this result is not purely temporary, for the lotion also has a healing tonic effect, and tends to strengthen and tone up the weakened tissue, and added benefit may be expected with continued use. Use this once a day for awhile; it cannot injure the most delicate skin; the treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance.

native country—is attested by the unstinted praise showered upon her by the critics and public alike in the numerous cities in which she appeared.

In the coming of Mr. Paul Althouse, the famous tenor from the Metropolitan opera house, whose joint recital with Miss Hertenstein is set for one of the three concerts of the series, an artistic offering of the highest order is assured. Always a tenor of the first rank, Mr. Althouse jumped into great favor and fame during the season just closed at the Metropolitan opera house in New York. He accomplished this by stepping in and singing to the satisfaction of critical New York audiences all of the great operatic roles which for the last decade have been looked upon in the great metropolis as the "private property" of the celebrated Caruso.

An active campaign is contemplated by the members of the club and, if initial enthusiasm may be taken as a criterion, it is safe to say Newark already has and will continue to respond to the efforts of the club.

HOW TO BANISH WRINKLES QUICKLY

If your face is disfigured with wrinkles no matter what the cause, you can quickly dispel every line, even the most obstinate, by using a simple, home-made wash lotion. Merely dissolve an ounce of powdered salolite in a half pint of warm—indeed—boiling water, found in any drugstore. Bathe the face in this, and—presto!

you scarcely believe your own eyes when you look into your mirror and behold the marvellous transformation.

The remarkable and instant action of this salolite so tightens the skin wrinkles are literally pressed out. Best of all, this result is not purely temporary, for the lotion also has a healing tonic effect, and tends to strengthen and tone up the weakened tissue, and added benefit may be expected with continued use. Use this once a day for awhile; it cannot injure the most delicate skin; the treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance.

HOW SHE ENDED TEN YEARS OF SKIN-TORTURE

Oct. 28, 1914:—"I had eczema on my face for ten years. Little red pimples formed in a small spot on my chin and then spread all over my face. They itched and burned me awfully. It was certainly embarrassing to me, and I would not go among people. I tried almost every remedy and treatment that could be used for this trouble, but nothing did me any good. I used Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, and was relieved in a day or two. In one month I was cured. This was six months ago and the trouble has never returned."—(Signed) Mrs. C. C. Roberts, Weatherford, Okla.

The Resinol treatment speedily heals eczema, rashes, ringworm, and other eruptions, and clears away disfiguring pimples and blackheads, even when other treatments prove worse than useless. Doctors have prescribed Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap for eighteen years, and all druggists sell them.

COMEDY IN MIDAIR

During the finding of "Safety First," the Komic comedy featuring Fay Tincher, Director Edward "Komic" Dillon and his technical aides learned all about safe moving. "Safety First" deals with the efforts of a band of burglars to rob a safe. They did not rob it in its proper place, and office in the fourteenth floor of a commercial building, but lowered it to the street, pretending to use regular safe movers.

An acrobat was hired to perform "stunts" on the top of the safe while it was being lowered down fourteen stories. Of course these operations causes the usual curious crowd to collect.

Cameramen, who were lowered simultaneously with the safe, got some very effective close-ups in mid air, while cameramen on the ground caught the crowds and their wonder at the performance.

Insane Prisoner Has Costly Home and Many Servants

Lima, July 13.—Giovanni Catino, an Italian, has one of the largest and most expensive homes in the United States, and probably a larger corps of personal attendants than any one man in America.

Giovanni is the first and only patient in the new Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane. The $2,500,000 structure, largest and best-equipped of its kind in the world, and its scores of employees are all devoted to his care. He eats his meals in the big dining room with its $8000 soundless floor and is king of all he surveys—for a few days.

Catino was sent here from Marysville, where he had been held on charge of murder.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and is supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Some time ago Catarrh was to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure in the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Russia Fortifies Rumanian Border; Plea for Support

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Berlin, July 13.—(Via London)—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from its correspondent at Czernowitz, Bukowina says:

"The Russians are fortifying their Rumanian borders. Many thousands of men are at work digging trenches parallel with the border and building barbed wire entanglements. The operations are being rushed with all speed."

The Russian government of Bessarabia borders Rumania on the east. Austria-Hungary is reported to have pledged Rumania to undertake the conquest of Bessarabia and transfer it to the Balkan state in exchange for Rumania's active support in the war.

Russia, on the other hand, has attempted to win the support of Rumania for the allies by promising the cession of the Hungarian territory of Transylvania which borders Rumania on the west.

FRENCH REPORT REPULSING AN ENEMY ATTACK

DURING WHICH THE ASSAILANTS WERE DECIMATED AND THROWN BACK

Railroad Station Bombed 35
Aeroplanes Ascended in Spite of a Forty Mile Gale.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Paris, July 13.—The following official communication regarding the progress of the war was issued to-day:

"In front of our positions the 'Labyrinth' a German attack was attempted last night under the protection of a violent curtain of fire. The assailants were decimated and completely thrown back upon their lines.

"There was a combat with hand grenades and cannonading in the forest of Apremont in the region of Regniville and in the forest of La Prete.

"In the Vosges, an attempted attack by the Germans, directed at a bridge head occupied by us on the east bank of the Fecht river at Sondernach was repulsed.

"An aerial squadron of 35 aeroplanes, ascended this morning in spite of a forty-mile wind and bombarded the railroad station strategically established by the Germans at Vigenelles-Les-Hattonchate. This station served the region of Calonne trenches and that of the forest of Apremont. Very important stores of every kind, and particularly ammunition were concentrated there. Our aviators dropped upon these objectives 171 bombs of 90 kilograms each. The bombardment started several fires. All our machines returned although they had been violently cannonaded.

"On July 5, at 4:30 p.m.," the statement continued, "the enemy recommended its bombardment of the city concentrating its fire upon the environs of the cathedral, more especially upon Saint Vaast, the ancient bishop's palace, which had been transformed into a museum.

Incendiary shells set fire to the building, and the use of fuse shells, from three-inch and four-inch guns prevented organizing to combat the fire, which soon assumed great proportions and completely destroyed the palace. During the night there was an intermittent bombardment.

"On July 6, about 7 a.m., shells fell on the cathedral, the roof of which took fire and despite the efforts of our troops, was entirely consumed, as were the cathedral organs.

"The departmental archives, which had been deposited in the palace of Saint Vaast had been placed in the cellar of the palace before the bombardment and were saved. The sacred ornament and part of the furnishings in the cathedral were removed."

Submarine Badge.

As a crown is the badge of kings, as three balls are the badge of pawnbrokers, so the badge of a submarine officer is a handful of cotton waste. When the half dozen officers of a modern submarine, clad in their black leather waterproof suits, come aboard a sailor stands on the tiny gangway to receive them, and to each he hands his waste rolled in a neat ball. The reason is that the steel doors and steel walls of a submarine sweat oil eternally. The steel seats sweat oil. The submarine officer before opening a door or before sitting down wipes the oil from the knob or from the seat with an unconscious gesture like that of pulling up the trousers to keep them from bagging. Joyful young submarine lieutenants say that even the dishes sweat oil on a submarine trip. They say that before filling their plates with meat they mechanically wipe the oil from them with their balls of oily waste.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Sharp Distinction.

A merited retort is not always a retort courteous. The rebuke that was administered to a party of intruding tourists by the old watchman who was set to guard the ruins of College hall at Wellesley not long after the great fire conveyed a keen but subtle reproof.

"Ye've got to keep out!" he ordered gruffly when he caught them trying to slip under the ropes that surrounded the crumbling walls.

The inquisitive visitors paused and eyed first the ruins and then their determined guardian.

"See here," a callow youth accosted him; "we're willing to risk it, and we'll take all the responsibility. What do you care if we lose our lives?"

"Ye've got to keep out. I ain't thinkin' of your lives; I'm thinkin' of my job!"—Youth's Companion.

Nothing to Wear.

There are women who live to dress, and the more frequent and radical the changes are the better they like it. If their pocketbooks can stand it, no great harm is done. But the great majority of women can't afford to keep up with this pace. The result is that some stay at home because their clothes are not in the latest style, many are made unhappy, and others keep up with the procession. It matters not what may be the cost.

A man can wear the same dress suit for eight or ten years and not look like a freak, why is it not possible to design an evening gown for women that will be in good style as long as it may be worn? It is absurd to hear a woman say, "I haven't a thing to wear," when she may have a half dozen gowns all in good condition.

HIGHLAND MARY.

Small as is the number of statues of women in Britain, there are two of one woman, concerning whom very little is actually known save that she was of humble origin and was associated with the life of Scotland's greatest poet. Passengers by the Clyde steamboats are familiar with the statue of Mary Campbell, whom Burns immortalized as Highland Mary, which overlooks the pier at Dunoon. There was a good deal of controversy about the memorial at the time of its erection, and the late Mr. Healey referred to it in his famous "Essay on Burns" as a "fantasy in bronze." Liverpool, with which Mary Campbell had no association whatsoever, has also chosen to commemorate her, and a marble statue stands in the palm house at Sefton park, enriched with choicest blooms all the year round.—London Mail.

Lost Votes.

A parliamentary candidate lost quite a number of votes by making a generous promise to his own wife. He promised his better half that if he were successful at the poll he would buy her a new sealskin coat and hat to match. His wife was so pleased with this kindly offer that she at once went and told all her lady friends about it. Every lady to whom this piece of news was imparted, of course, said to the candidate's wife at once, "Oh, how very nice, dear!" but equally, of course, immediately went off home to her husband and said: "Take care you don't vote for Mr. A, dear. Fancy that stuck up Mrs. A. in a new sealskin while my old one is so shabby!"—London Express.

Kipling Wouldn't Talk.

Invited in 1890 to speak at a public dinner in London in aid of an orphan asylum Rudyard Kipling wrote:

"I simply can't make a speech in public. It isn't in my power—not for all the orphans in the world. I have experimented on grownup people, and the result wasn't pretty. I'd sooner thrash an orphan or give it its bottle than speak to the orphans' well-wishers after a heavy meal."

For Permanent Peace.

"I have told you over and over, Tom, not to fight with that little Jimson boy."

"If you'd let me finish the job just one time, ma, I wouldn't have to fight with him any more!"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Libelous Demonstration.

"Why do you insist on singing?" "Because I love music." "The way you sing sounds as if you hated it!"—Washington Star.

Woman's Superiority.

With suitable special scenery a woman invalid may show to advantage, but a sick man always looks like the Old Harry.—Atchison Globe.

MUSIC A BIG FEATURE OF THE CHAUTAUQUA

THE Kentucky Entertainers, the Elwyn Company and the Chicago Ladies' Singing Party are three musical organizations scheduled for this season's Chautauqua. They will present programs that are varied and full of interest, and the members are thoroughly experienced in Chautauqua work.

Miss Olive Robertson, pianist; Alexander J. Spiegel, violinist, and Miss Anna Chastain Haynes, soprano, are the Kentucky Entertainers. Musical critics of the Cincinnati Enquirer, Louisville Courier-Journal, Wheeling News, Lexington Herald and other leading papers are enthusiastic in praising the musical ability of Miss Robertson. Mr. Spiegel has studied under Franz Wagner and has appeared frequently as first cellist with the Northwestern Symphony Orchestra, the Bush Temple Orchestra and the Ludwig Becker Orchestra of Chicago. Miss Haynes studied at John B. Stetson University in Florida, with Charles W. Starr in Nashville and under Alfred Williams in the Chautauqua and Lyceum Coaching School in Chicago. Both she and Miss Robertson are Kentuckians and have appeared extensively in recital and concert work.

Miss Priscilla Carver, pianist; Thomas Lewis, Welsh baritone, and Leonardo G. Fristrom, violinist, compose the Elwyn Company. Miss Carver has appeared as soloist with the Chicago and New York Symphony Orchestras and in recitals at Vassar College and elsewhere. Her studies were pursued under Teresa Carreno of Berlin, Harold Bauer of Paris and Miss Annette R. Jones of Chicago. This is her third season in Chautauqua work. Mr. Lewis, baritone, was born in Wales and worked as a miner for thirteen years. For three seasons he appeared as soloist with the Irish Choral Society of Chicago. He sings with that instinct which is the heritage of his race. Mr. Fristrom has studied under the celebrated Herbert Blom at Brisbane, Australia, and under Max Fischel of Chicago. He has a lively sensibility and a warm imagination which he expresses through the violin.

THE ELWYN COMPANY.

The Chicago Ladies' Singing Party made a successful tour of 130 Chautauquas last season. One of the striking features of this company is the sparkling variety of their program, ranging from classical and semi-classical to the old fashioned songs and popular twentieth century melodies. "Miss Mary Welch," to use the words of the Chicago Record-Herald, "has a contralto voice of great richness, wide range and power and charms her audience by the earnestness and simplicity of her manner." Miss Gertrude Harris, soprano, has appeared extensively in this country and Europe and has many complimentary notices from the London Press. For two years she was soloist in the Elwyn Company.

TRACTOR PLOWING TRIED ON FARM IN LICKING COUNTY

The superiority of the motor driven plow was ably demonstrated Saturday when Paader & Cunningham of Elmwood court arranged a demonstration of a motor plow. The demonstration was held on the W. M. farm just south of Meindlmeier's Park. Mr. L. C. Shumaker is the manager of the farm and he expressed himself as well pleased with the work accomplished by the plow. The tractor is the equivalent of nine horses. The fuel costs only 4 cents a gallon and 15 gallons are sufficient to run the tractor 10 hours.

Miss Maide Jones took the tractor around the field and while driving the plow Mr. M. S. Cook of the International Harvester Company sketched her picture. There was a rather large crowd all during the day while the demonstration lasted. One of the spectators, Mr. Ed. Wolden, a farmer, who lives near Paris' Park, was so much pleased with the tractor that he purchased one. The tractor is made by the International Harvester Company of America.

Two plows, a disk harrow and a smoothing harrow can be attached at one time and the ground completely prepared at one operation.

St. Cok in this city, the state agent, was in charge at the field. The tractor is capable of plowing 10 acres a day.

BELGRADE PRACTICES WAR TIME ECONOMY IN STRICT SENSE

Associated Press Correspondent Paris, June 20.—In none of Europe's capitals is the meaning of war-time economy so thoroughly understood as in Belgrade. Only a short time ago the inhabitants of the city, fearing a Russian invasion, had to find their food stores set under great difficulty. There are no street cars or trolley cars. Many articles of common use are so scarce as to be practically unobtainable. Even the upper classes have dispensed with servants. It has been a general custom to have a maid a 2 per cent custom to look meals but once daily. The food stores are forced to sell for the day, and it is generally eaten standing. Few people appear to be too busy with their various wartime occupations to go through a formality in connection with their last meals.

Families which would otherwise be crowed all during the day while the demonstration lasted. One of the spectators, Mr. Ed. Wolden, a farmer, who lives near Paris' Park, was so much pleased with the tractor that he purchased one. The tractor is made by the International Harvester Company of America.

Five bees are allowed to pass by the post office within the United Kingdom.

BRYAN EXPLAINS WHAT HE MEANT BY "UNNECESSARY"

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Hermonia, Beach, Calif., July 13.—William J. Bryan, former secretary of state, who is spending a brief vacation here with his son, issued a statement today in explanation of what he meant by "unnecessary risk" contained in his comment in connection with the last German note. He said:

"Any traveler takes an unnecessary risk when he goes into the war zone on a belligerent ship, knowing that it is subject to attack by submarines. A traveler also takes unnecessary risks when he rides on a neutral ship carrying ammunition."

"I believe that our government would be justified in separating passengers from ammunition, but until this is done, American travelers would be justified in refusing to take passage on belligerent ships or a neutral ship carrying ammunition. If patriotism requires a man to risk his life for his country when his country is engaged in war, it would seem to be patriotic for a citizen to avoid risks that might involve his country in war."

WEST VIRGINIA WOOL PRICES ARE SOARING

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Parkersburg, W. Va., July 13.—Wool growers from eastern markets anxious to hurry this year's clip to the mills, are offering what are said to be the best prices in the history of the West Virginia wool industry. Several thousand pounds were sold yesterday in Barbour county for 35 cents a pound, and the Tompkins Grove Wool Growers' Association, composed of sheep raisers in Wood and Jackson counties, received from 30 1/2 to 31 1/2 a pound for the various grades offered at their annual sale at Bellsville. The situation as regards Australian wool and the demand for woolen goods from European armies are said to be the cause of the high prices.

SWOBODA CASE PROBABLY WILL BE DISMISSED

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM

Paris, July 13.—Major Julian, of the Paris permanent court martial has completed the report he will present to that tribunal regarding the case of Raymond Swoboda, who professes to be an American citizen, and who was charged with espionage after having been arrested on suspicion that he was responsible for the fire aboard the steamship La Touraine. Inasmuch as experts have decided the steamer fire was the result of an accident and as there is no strong evidence that Swoboda was a spy, it is considered probable the case will be dismissed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, July 13 — One hundred cigars and seven gallons of punch, bought by Miami University authorities, for a banquet of a college society, drew severe criticism from State examiners in their report to-

IS CAMPING WITH FRIENDS IN THE CANADIAN WOODS

Albert "Kaiser" Clench, who left for the wilds of Canada to go into camp for a week, after spending some time at the furniture markets of Chicago and Grand Rapids, has remembred his friends in this city with photographs showing a fine string of fish which he was supposed to have caught but as it is known that he cannot tell a reel from a windlass his adored friends have serious doubts as to the veracity of his fish stories.

Mr. Glechart writes that he is having an elegant time studying nature in the Canadian woods, hunting wild cats and timber wolves, and passing away the evenings in revision of the constitution and by-laws of the L. P. Society, of which he is the president. He also states that he expects to express back a box of fish to the Elk club with instructions to Col. Billy Hohl, the steward, to prepare them for a number of his friends.

DANISH GOVERNMENT IS ANNOYED BY ITS COLONIAL AFFAIRS

(Associate Press Correspondence)
Copenhagen, June 30.—The Danish government continues to be annoyed with the condition of affairs in its colonies. In Iceland there is a large faction advocating separation from Denmark, and in the Danish West Indies there is an almost hopeless condition of finances, and some trouble among the negroes which has not as yet been fully understood.

As recently reported, a commission appointed to investigate affairs, issued a very pessimistic report, and the government is now holding a number of conferences with the governor of the islands who has been called to Copenhagen for this purpose. These conferences may go on for months.

At the same time, Hamilton Jackson, a negro who was formerly a teacher in the islands is here, posing as a representative of the negro population of the islands. He has submitted to the government a series of complaints so numerous that they would easily fill a score of newspaper columns. The complaints are directed mainly against the island administration.

Jackson has held several meetings at open places in Copenhagen, addressing the working population in behalf of the negroes. While he has enlisted some supporters, he has been hooted by some of his hearers and his meetings closed because of his assaults upon the character of certain officials and planters in the West Indies.

It was practically conceded today that the following officers would be chosen:

Grand Exalted Ruler, James R. Nicholson, Springfield, Mass.

Grand Leading Knight, W. P. Schad, Milwaukee, Wis.

Grand Loyal Knight, William L. Owen, Postmaster at Saginaw, Mich.

Grand Lecturing Knight, E. R. Ingerson, Seattle.

Grand Tyler, Thomas E. Donehue, New London, Conn.

Grand Inner Guard, Charles Black, Oklahoma City.

Grand Secretary, Fred C. Robinson, Dubuque, Iowa.

Grand Treasurer, Charles A. White, of Chicago.
